

G. Aaron, MBA, Vice President of Operations

Aaron has a vast background in manufacturing operations. His professional career spans both high and low volume precision manufacturing processes with several Fortune 500 corporations. His background also includes Lean Manufacturing and Six Sigma techniques, while specializing in problem solving and process refinement. He has a BS with dual emphasis: Mechanical Engineering and Engineering Management from University of Missouri, an MBA in Strategic Management from Webster University and Certificate in Information Technology from Washington University in St. Louis Missouri.

RV Brooks, Director, Research, and Development

RV leads the discovery and development of the next generation of training and learning materials for application with new and existing customers. He manages and coordinates product development. Researching in various industries, he links learning experiences with pressing business issues that could be standing in the way of your organizations productivity and profitability. RV attended University of Illinois.

Michele Woodard, MBA, Media Development

Throughout her professional career, Michele has been involved with the design, management, training, and production of various online and print publications. Some of the companies she has worked with include The Travel Channel, The Weather Channel, BellSouth, The Walt Disney Company, and Union Bank of California. She has a master's degree in Journalism from the University of Missouri - Columbia, and a bachelor's degree in English from Cornell College.

Beverly A. Rubio, MBA, Consultant, Trainer

Beverly is a seasoned professional, with years of experience in Fortune 500 companies. She helps companies develop strategies, vision, and leads the effort in developing their business plans. She also has a background in media. She was on Independent news TV producing and work features segments for public affairs shows in Los Angeles. She holds an MBA in Finance/Marketing from the Anderson School of Management at UCLA.

Carolyn K. Ortman, MBA, International Trainer, Consultant

Carolyn is an international trainer and marketer with over 17 years of experience. As a former instructor for Dale Carnegie training, she has coached company managers and executives on leadership, communication and human relations principles and skills. Recognized as a motivated and energetic international presenter and trainer, she leads workshops in Public Speaking, Conflict Management, and Professional Communication Skills and Customer Service
Carolyn earned her Masters degree in Marketing from California State University, San Bernardino.

Sonya D. Brooks, MBA

Sonya's human resources experience spans the private and public business sectors. She manages human resources with prior experience with AT&T and Lucent Technologies. She is a current member of the International Public Management Association for Human Resources (IPMA-HR) and the Human Resources Management Association for Greater St. Louis (HRMA).

Sonya holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Human Resource Management from Kansas State University and a Master of Business Administration degree from Webster University-St. Louis.

Carrie D Cheley, Consultant, Executive Trainer

Carrie has over seventeen years of experience assessing organizations, advising senior leaders, conducting organizational training, and developing leaders in the United States Army. Her military career has afforded her the opportunity to travel extensively while conducting training for both US and foreign military leaders on Human Relations. She holds a BS in Sociology w/ emphasis on Gender and Ethnic Studies from Chaminade University; Certificates of Training in Human Resources & Organizational Development from Chapman University, and is a Certified Mediation Expert. She is currently completing a Masters Program in Organizational Leadership at Chapman University.